Part 3: Making a Backwards Plan

Where are you going?
What are the expectations for you at the next level?

Where are you now?
What do you have in the pipeline right now?

How long do you have before your next review?

How long might each of your current projects take?
Go through your pipeline [or your analysis you did last week, if you have it]
Jot down an estimate of how long it might realistically take for something to get published
